TIGERS TO OPEN 1924 FOOTBALL SEASON ON RIGGS FIELD AGAINST ELON COLLEGE

Opening Line-Up Not Known Yet.
Good Game Expected—Elon
Team Light But Fast

With prospects for one of the greatest Clemson seasons of recent years, the 1924 football program will get under way Saturday afternoon when Elon will oppose Clemson in the opening game of the season. The contest will start at 3 P. M., and admission will be $1.50, no reserved seats.

As the Tigers begin their final work of preliminary training before the clash with Elon College, the race still continues hot among various candidates for the vacant berths on the team.

No announcement has been made by the coaches as to who will play on the varsity eleven, and no such announcement will be made until the hour of battle Saturday afternoon. Up to that time all the candidates will still have a chance, and they are expected to put out all they have throughout this week in the attempt to make the opening line-up.

Coach "Bud" Saunders, when asked by this correspondent when he would announce a probable line-up for the first game said "I'll announce the line-up just before the game starts. Until that time I won't even know myself who will start."

According to the Tiger mentor, a great many factors enter into the selection of the eleven Junglers who carry the Purple and Gold onto the playing field. Up to the very last minute those factors may change, and the players' condition on the day of the game enters largely into the choice. For these reasons Coach "Bud" makes it an invariable policy not to announce any line-up as probable until he tells the men to trot on the field.

With no official word to be forthcoming until Saturday, the greatest matter of interest to the camp followers of the Tiger during this week will be the contest among the various men for the open positions.

Of course the positions considered open are quarterback, center, and an end. But in reality every position on the Clemson team is open, though it seems practically certain that the veterans whom popular opinion considers members of the team will be at their places when the first whistle blows Saturday.

Practice Rained Out

Rain usually does not stop football practice, and throughout last week the Tigers worked out either in the rain or on a wet sloppy field. But Saturday the

SENIOR DANCE TO BE FRIDAY NIGHT

Over One Hundred Boys Sign Up for Dance—New Gymn to be Scene of First Hop of the Season

Preparations are about complete for the opening dance of the season which is to be given Friday night by the Senior Dancing Club. Under the direction of the officers of the club, the plans have been worked out to the smallest detail with the aim in view to give the cadets the best dance they have ever had and for a lower admission price.

This decrease in admission necessitates such actions as may be required to keep out visitors out of the dance hall unless they are either members of the faculty or alumni of the college. All others must pay the regular admission as paid by the cadets.

The dance is to be held in the big gym, and the committee in charge of the decorations, consisting of: Eddie Talbert, John Batson, Cecil Kirby, George Phifer, and Carl Faires; have been trying to make this large edifice resemble the pard of the King of the Forrests. And they have put it over in fine style, because it certainly is a close resemblance. Colored lights will add much to the attractive design.

The reception committee has placed all the girls, and now calls on all the boys to visit the hostess of your girl and thank her for her kindness. This committee consists of the following men: "Ickey" Friar, Lewis Smith, Tommy Blount, Joe Lyons, and Henry Clarke.

The club promises a fine dance, and every cadet is urged to take advantage of this chance for a good time.

REV. L. C. GIBSON TO LEAVE CLEMSON

Baptist Pastor Has Accepted
Church in Georgia—Cadets feel
Their Loss

The Corps of Cadets, as well as the members of the campus, is very sorry indeed to learn that Reverend L. C. Gibson, Pastor of the Baptist Church, has accepted a call to Toccoa, Georgia. Reverend Gibson came to Clemson last fall. During his short stay here he has been a good friend as well as a good pastor to the

IT'S UP TO YOU

A great Tiger Team is being molded on Riggs Field. That team will be out to win games for Clemson, and will give their every ounce of energy and power to put the Purple and Gold on top.

But for each of those eleven men, battling on the field, there must be 100 Tigers backing him loyally from the grand-stands—1100 roaring Tigers standing firmly behind the 11 fighting Tigers on the gridiron.

To serve the team best, each man of the 1100 must train himself in yelling and practice the songs and cheers of Clemson. The place to train for backing the teams is at the pep meetings.

Were you at the pep meeting Tuesday night?

Are you going to be at the next one?

SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR TIGER SCRUBS

Two Games Already Billed—Two Others Prospective—Good Trips

The Clemson second team, that body, better known to the football world as the scrubs, which absorbs a vast quantity of knocks from the varsity and receives little glory in return, will fare somewhat better this season.

Two games have already been scheduled for them, and there is a possibility of one or two more being arranged. The arranging of these contest will give the hard-working scrubs incentive in the form of games with outside teams and enjoyable trips in addition to their frequent scrimmages with the varsity.

The games already billed for the scrubs are with Piedmont College, at Demorest, Ga., on October 18, and with North Georgia Agricultural College, at Hartwell, Ga., on November 8. A game with Asheville High School may be billed for November 22.

The authorities are anxious to secure a game with the Furman scrubs, and the Pickens County Fair officials wanted the game to be played in Pickens on October 18. That was impossible for Clemson, as the Tigers are then in the midst of strenuous preparations for the State Fair game with Carolina. It is hoped, however, that some date and place can be settled on for a game with the Furman second-string.

SOPHOMORE CLASS ORGANIZES; MILLING IS MADE PRESIDENT

O'dell Is Elected Vice President
—Ritchie And Brown Complete
Roll Of Sophomore Officers

The Sophomore Class met in chapel Thursday evening to choose the men who will direct the destinies of the class for this year. There was a large number of the class in attendance and careful attention was shown business of electing officers.

The Sophomores use judgment in all their elections of officers. The officers elected were J. A. Milling, President; W. R. O'Dell, vice President; B. R. Ritchie, Secretary and Treasurer; W. C. Brown, Historian.

Milling, the choice of the class for president, is a man who will be fully capable of the duty and responsibility entrusted to him. Besides being a good student, he is popular with all his classmates and with all the men of the corps and an excellent baseball player as he demonstrated on the "rat" team last year.

O'dell, the Vice-president, is a man who is capable and well liked, a good scholar and a pole vaulter renown. He holds the state high school record for this event. As he is eligible for either collegiate competition this year he should make a name for himself.

Ritchie, who holds the position of Secretary and Treasurer, is a good student, a good fellow and one well liked. He should be a man fully able to carry on the work assigned to him.

Brown, the Historian, is a "Block E" man. His stand in class last year and this year was far about the average. We congratulate the class on their choice of him.

The whole Sophomore class is to be praised on the able and efficient men in whom they have chosen as their leaders.

Prof. Maurice Seigler has been added to the faculty of the Engineering department at Clemson. Prof. Seigler will teach freehand drawing in engineering courses and will also have charge of Architectural freehand and life drawing.

The cubs are struggling strenuously to cinch their places on the first eleven. But very few players have been able to rise above the heads of their comrades in the gallant art of "pounding the pig-skin." However, due to earnest endeavor on the managers part, those who make the coveted squad will be well rewarded by an excellent schedule.

Very little dope has been available on the other freshman teams of the state, but we are sure that some are going to put up a scrap for the state banner. The Gamecocks are reputed to have a good team but things look like we'll have a "chicken-fry" about October 18. Everyone was a trifle disappointed in the results that last years 'Rat' team achieved although we realized that fight wasn't lacking. Although we believe "its not whether you won or lost that counts—but how you played the game," we're counting on being content for two reasons this season.

But to get away from such memories of by gone days and to catch the true Tiger fighting spirit lets remember Grant and Rice's words.

"We've got our bumps where it hurt the most,
As we dug for the Grand Old Alibi;
Or we've charged head down through the broken host
With never a turn for an old pal's cry;
We've floundered through many a baggy stew
But old Doc Tempus has done his part.
He has slipped us a leaf that is clean and new.
So here's a chance for another start."

THE CLEMSON SPIRIT

Before the coming of "Doc" Stewart to Clemson about four years ago the spirit of the Clemson student body was far below the average found at all of the Southern schools. With the advent of the jovial "Doc" the spirit of our school rose by leaps and bounds. Almost overnight Clemson acquired the reputation of having a student body that backed its teams to the limit winning or losing.

Since that memorable year the spirit has stuck, and though the founder of it has gone, his successor has carried on, and the spirit has gained. Last season our teams were carried along on a spirit of enthusiasm that knew no bounds. Now, we stand at the threshold of a new year and a new season. Are we going to keep up the spirit? Are we going to live up to our new reputation? If we are, Men of Clemson we must get the pep and the Tiger spirit that is the foundation of successful athletic teams. Attend every pep meeting, back the football team every day at practice, and let's have a student body on the sidelines Saturday that will inspire our football team with a spirit of "My All for Clemson."

A HOSTESS HOUSE

Next to that for a new Gym, Clemson's greatest need in the way of new buildings is a hostess house. At present it is only through the kindness and courtesy of the ladies of the campus that dances are possible here, for there is no other way of placing visiting girls who come up for the dances.

The ladies have always been more than accommodating in having girls placed at their homes, but it is an imposition, oftentimes, and this kindness of the ladies is seldom appreciated as much as it should be.

The dances are getting larger each year and soon it will be almost impossible to place all the visiting girls at homes on the campus. At present some of the homes hold five or six visitors, and it is necessary that a hostess house be built or bought that will take care of the greater number of Clemson's fair visitors.

An attractive house of rustic design could be built and furnished at a cost of six or seven thousand dollars. At first thought this seems a stupendous sum, but by hard work on the part of the student body, and especially the dancing clubs this sum could be raised. If the college authorities would permit such a fee of only a few dollars being charged each man entering Clemson, this alone would build and furnish a house in just a few years.

What do you, the students of Clemson who have girls up for dances think of this plan for a hostess house? Talk it up and let's get something done. The Clemson student body CAN do anything it wants to, so why not set you hearts on a hostess house and HAVE ONE.

THE CREED OF A COLLEGE MAN

I shall make friends, and especially with those who have a high purpose to serve and a determination to equip themselves for service, and I shall strive always to increase my capacity for friendship and widen my circle of friends, realizing that my helpfulness to others may not exceed the extent of my good will.

I shall acquire manners from gentleman who possess the Christian virtues in order that I may be able to present myself acceptably to the world, or to that part of it in which I am to serve, that the difficulties in the way of my intellectual growth and material success may not be increased by crudeness of manner and coarseness of conduct.

I shall cultivate a respect for law and order and shall support an orderly government based on right and justice, realizing that the safety of organized society depends upon a generous co-operation of all its parts, and that the widest individual freedom is possible only when protected by just laws. Wherever defects in government offend I shall seek legitimate ways of correcting them, but shall denounce mob law as the enemy to social welfare.

I shall give myself up with generous enthusiasm, at properly selected intervals, to wholesome recreation and legitimate amusements, believing that the spirit within can be refreshed and the joy of working can be increased thereby.

I shall form proper habits of work that I may apply myself with the least possible danger to my nervous system, for I believe the physical and the intellectual parts may be so disciplined as to become the ready and willing servants of my worthy desires; and that my capacity for work may be greatly enlarged through properly acquired habits without danger to myself and with increasing joy in the largest service that I may render.

I shall maintain a strong and positive purpose as a guide to conduct, for I believe that spiritual or psychological defects may be overcome and that success in life may be attained just to the extent that my purpose, supported by sincere desires and an unflinching determination, is worked out through some vocation which is the best expression of my ideals. To this end I shall seek knowledge, character and skill that my power may be adequate to my desires.

SENIOR DAIRYMEN PREPARE FOR TRIP

Seven Men To leave For Dairy Show—Trip Made Saturday To Ware Shoals.

Seven of the nine Senior dairymen, accompanied by Professor LaMaster, will leave Thursday morning for Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to attend the International Dairy Show to be held Sept. 26—Oct. 7. They will be gone ten days, and will visit several large dairy farms along their route besides attending the International Dairy Show.

The seven men who will make the trip are as follows: K. M. Mace, G. E. Hawkins, F. C. McLees, W. F. Welch, W. A. Ham-bright, H. W. Rodgers, and W. C. Huffman. From these men a judging team of three men with one alternate will be picked to represent Clemson.

All these men got some excellent practice Saturday in judging the herd of ninety-four Guernseys owned by the Ware Shoals Manufacturing Co. of Ware Shoals. This experience put the finishing touches on their strenuous course of practice judging, and should leave them in fine shape to compete with the thirty teams from the greatest agricultural colleges of the United States.

CLASS OF 1928 ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

Leon Chandler Elected President Honor System Unanimously Adopted

The members of the Freshman class assembled in chapel on Monday night for their first class meeting. The purpose of this meeting was to elect officers and vote on the Honor System. The Freshman have had sufficient time in which to pick out the men who are best suited for the different offices. They have elected men who have the ability to make good leaders so now it is left entirely with them.

Leon Chandler, a graduate of Sumter High, was fortunate enough to have the honor of being President of the class of '28. In Leon they have a man who is well suited for the position.

"Bud" Eskew, a member of last year's graduating class from Greenville High, was elected Vice-President. Although the duties of this office are limited, "Bud" will do his share in leading the present Freshman class to a better and a greater Clemson.

The office of Secretary and Treasurer requires a great deal of time and work. Frank Manning of Columbia High seemed to be the very man for the place. He is capable of taking care of his end of the work.

K. P. Dozier had the honor of being elected Class Historian. This Freshman comes from Rock Hill. He should make a very able man for this office.

The Honor System was voted on and unanimously adopted. For four consecutive years the Honor System has been adopted. It now becomes a part of the college. This was one of the most important transactions that took place

The other Classes are very glad to see that the Freshman Class has started off in the right way. Now keep the right spirit all the way through. It is up to every member of the Class to cooperate with the officers in every way possible.

ARCHITECTS PUT PEP INTO ORGANIZATION

Plans Are Made To Bring Society Out Of Inactivity—Officers Are Elected For Year

The Architectural Society again resumed its activities at a meeting of the Architects last Thursday evening. The society has been practically inactive for over a year, due to the energetic or un-energetic Seniors of last years class. But new resolutions were resolved, and meetings are to be held twice a month, including occasional "feeds."

The following officers were elected for this session: M. B. Kirton, president; J. E. Cudd, vice-president; W. A. Cox secretary and treasurer; D. C. Ayers and D. F. DeYoung publicity men. At each meeting, it has been planned to have illustrated lectures on noteworthy architectural slides. The professor's of the department are to participate in the society activities. A new addition has been made to the architectural department, Mr. Maurice Sieger, who is to be instructor of free hand drawing and coloring. Mr. Sieger is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and won a scholarship for a course abroad. The other members of the department are Prof. Lee and Prof. Allen.

COLUMBIAN ENJOYS PROFITABLE MEETING

The Columbian Holds Large Meeting—New Members Join—Prospects Bright

The Columbian Literary Society, the oldest and the best at Clemson held its second meeting of the year on last Friday night. A very out. Everyone on the program was present and all of the numbers showed a great deal of preparation. The program consisted of an orator, Mr. L. L. Bell, two declaimers, Mr. T. A. Bonner, and Mr. F. L. Cary, reader, Mr. R. H. Smith, and Mr. L. B. Blakeney as humorist. The debate Resolved that all forms of hazing should be abandoned at Clemson" was warmly contested by the affirmative, Mr. B. B. Gillespie and Mr. F. C. Jennings, and the negative, Mr. K. B. Sanders and Mr. C. J. McGrew. To tell the good points of each number would take too much time for they were all fine. All of Blakeney's jokes, himself included of course, were well selected. In the debate a number of points both pro and con were presented. The judges decided in favor of the negative. These are the kinds of meetings which make Literary Societies worth while. Fellow Columbians lets have more of them new men give us a trial.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ELECTS CHEER LEADERS

"Bus" Rowland and Jack Law are New Junior Pep Organizers

The Athletic Association held its second meeting of the 1924-25 session in chapel last evening at 6:30. Most of the cadets were present. The meeting was not wholly a business meeting. The band gave several selections which were followed by quite a number yells. There were several new yells tried out and proved very good.

The meeting was called to order by Capt. T. E. May, President of the Association. The first business brought up was the election of two cheer leaders from the junior class, to succeed "Buck" Spearman last year. "Bus" J. R. Rowland and "Jack," J. M. Law were elected. We believe that "Bus" and "Jack" will make very able cheer-leaders.

Prof Henry next made a few announcements concerning the games to be played here this fall. He said that we were to have three of our biggest games on the campus this fall. He mentioned the P. C., V. P. I., and the Furman games. He asked the student body to cooperate with him in getting the arrangements ready for these games. He also asked the cadets to assist them in getting the seats placed on the new concrete foundations, which are being put down, on Riggs Field. He said that he would need ushers and tickets sellers for all the games, and asked the cadets to assist him on all these occasions, especially the V. P. I. and Furman games.

He next suggested that we have a reception committee, chosen from the Senior class, to aid the manager in meeting the visiting teams. The suggestion was put in the form of a motion and unanimously passed. The committee is to consist of three members, to be appointed. Capt. May also made a few remarks on the reception committee.

He said that a school is judged largely by the way that it receives and entertains its visiting teams.

Prof Henry next brought up the question of seating the corps at the games. He said that another section of seats would have to be selected as the field would be turned at right angles to the way it was last year. It was suggested that a committee be appointed to confer with Prof Henry concerning the matter. A motion was made and passed that the three officers of the Black "C" Club act as the committee in the matter.

Capt. May then urged all men who had drawn football equipment and who did not intend going out any more, to turn it in to the manager, as there were some men out who were not fully equipped.

The meeting then adjourned after going several snappy yells.

He was very quiet during the first part of the dinner, and everyone forgot that he was there. As dessert was being served, however, the host told a story.

When he had finished and the laughter had ceased, his little son exclaimed delightedly:

TIGER CUBS NOT SO BEAUTIFUL BUT THEY PLAY REAL FOOTBALL

Every Position Contested to Keenly
That Even the Coaches Don't Know Names of All Players

It might be well said of the Cubs that "Charms strike the sight but merit wins the soul." Personally we wouldn't award any honors for pulchritude to the young Tigers, but if merit wins the sole, then kindly page a shoe-repairer. Due to the unusual amount of good material present the coaches are facing an extremely difficult task. Every position is so fought and clawed over by so many good men that it is bewildering to try to pick even fifteen men for the first team.

Naturally the squad has diminished slightly in size, but almost eighty men are reporting for practice regularly. Martin of Greenville who was almost deluded into entering Furman is one of the brightest prospects on the field. He is a rangy left-hander and weights around 180 lbs. He passes well, runs well, and is an unusually good punter. His running rate of last year, Bud Eskew is an eye-opener. Bud is big and husky and can shoot a pass like a line drive. Coach Richards is teaching him to throw on the run and with his speed he certainly should leave his name in the football history of Clemson in the future. Timmerman and Jack Chandler's 'big' little brother are also ploughing things up in the back-field. Timmerman runs like a flash and reverses his field strikingly to the chargin of would-be tacklers. Chandler is a big, strong fellow and ploughs through any that fleetness of foot fails to take him around.

Strenuous Practice

The whole squad continue to work strenuously and the luminaries continue to shine. Several boys are out with slight injuries but all are expected back on the field shortly.

The writer had an amusing experience last Thursday when he attempted to learn the names of various players on the different squads. Apporaching a wise looking freshman he inquired as to a certain players identity. The accosted one meditated a moment and attempted to stimulate his mental apparatus by scratching his dome. Failing to secure the desired response he replied "Damifino." After being told the same thing about several players, the writer became dubious and sidled up to the coach. Picking out a prominent player he repeated his question.

The coached slashed a mean glance at the aforesaid writer and snapped "Damfino."

These names were reluctantly withdrawn from the line-ups after much pondering, but this only goes to prove that if some lusty swain is disappointed because his name wasn't conspicuous enough to warrant his sending the "sweet mama" a copy of the Tiger, it may not be because he isn't good and it may not be due to negligence on the writer's part.

Two promising squads had the following personal

Position	Players	Players
Half-backs	Martin	Jones
	Timmerman	Dozier
Full-back	Chandler	Eskew
Quarter	Manning	Mealing
Guards	Speaors	Harvey
Tackles	Askew	Potts

HORTICULTURE MEN GO TO CORNELIA

Prof. Gardner Supervises Excursion
Of Some Fifteen Men—Visits
Made To Extensive Orchards
And Packing Houses.

For the past two or three years the seniors majoring in Horticulture have made a visit sometime during the apple season to Cornelia, Georgia to see the apple orchards and packing houses there. Friday, September 19, Professor Gardner carried the Horticultural section and J. N. Todd minoring in horticulture down to Cornelia. The ones making this trip were P. D. Stoney, D. E. Smith, E. H. Talbert, T. H. Clarke, G. L. Jones, C. B. King, L. G. Causey, J. T. Stevens, A. G. Shanklin, E. W. Brockman, T. E. McLeod, J. N. Tood, E. Sanders, T. J. Hart and Professor M. E. Gardner. We went down on number 29, getting to Cornelia about ten o'clock. There we were met by Mr. Staight, one of the largest and most successful apple growers in the State of Georgia. We waited around Cornelia until a few Fords could get there to carry ups around to the different orchards and packing houses.

We first went to Mr. Staight's orchard about three miles out from Cornelia. There we were shown an orchard of nine hundred trees from which Mr. Staight said he expected to get between 8,000 and 9,000 bushels of apples. There was one tree in the orchard that had forty bushels on it last year. Mr. Staight was willing to tell us anything we wanted to know about the care and handling of the orchard. He told us all about the handling of the trees from the time they were set out until they were full grown.

After we had looked over that orchard we went on back to Cornelia. It was then about twelve o'clock and as Todd seemed to be rather hungry we decided to get dinner before we went anywhere else. Mr. Staight met us again at one-thirty and we went out to the Balwin packing house, one of the largest in Georgia. There we followed the apples from the time they were bought to the packing house until they were loaded in the refrigerator car. Out there every one was willing to answer any questions that we would ask.

After we had seen everything that was to be seen in that house we got in the cars and went over to Clarksville to look over the packing house there. This one was not quite as large as the first one we saw.

When we got back to Cornelia Mr. Roper, the president of the Cooperative Marketing Association gave us a very good talk on cooperative marketing. It was then time for the train, so we had to jounrey on back home. They all offered us a very cordial invitation to come back whenever we could.

FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL TO BE ORGANIZED

Military Organization Of Council
Secures Efficient Results—Valuable Work Carried Out By Members

The Friendship Council, as organized by H. E. Robinson assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. last year, is organized somewhat on a military basis. The President of the "Y", B. W. Freeland is hte Colonel and at the head of the whole thing. Just under him are the Majors, the Recording Secretary, S. W. Henry and the Vice President, T. J. Hart. Each Major has several Captains under him. These Captains are the members of the Frriendship Council. Each Captain picks ten Freshmen that he wants to be a friend to.

It is the object of the Friendship Council to try to be friends to the Freshmen and try to interest them in the religious affairs at school. Most of these men have been in the habit of going to Sunday School and taking part in other religious affairs at home. friends up here. If their first friendships are with boys who do not take part in religious affairs, they will soon cease to take interest in them themselves. The Council men try to see that each Freshman is asked to Sunday School, Morning Watch, Bible Clesses, and every other religious affairs on the campus. They are also willing to help the new boys in their school work and any other troubles that might have if it is within the power of the Council men.

The Council tries to meet every other Saturday night. At these meetings, we discuss what is to be done and how we will go about doing it. If there is anything that comes up in between these meetings the Colonel knows about it and he tells the Majors, then the Majors tell the Captains. In this way no one man has an over amount of work to do.

Besides the regular working of the Council there is a social side to it. At some time during the year the Council meets and enjoys a churn of ice cream or some other goods things to eat.

down-pour continued to such an extent that lower end of the field was practically inundated, and the boys were given a day of rest.

As a substitute for the regular work, the squad assembled in a lecture room, and had a long session of "skull practice." All through the season the squad meets at night for blackboard sessions in which they study the grid game as carefully as they do their most important subject of college work, and the coaches consider the "skull session" a very important feature of the season's training.

Few Injuries

The Clemson squad has been unusually fortunate this year in the almost total absence of major injuries from the squad. Naturally the accustomed quota of bruises, cuts, and charley-horses has been apparent, but not a single injury of importance has been reported yet.

Proper training and conditioning has great deal to do with the presence of injuries from the squad. As an example of this the coaches point to the difference between the varsity and the freshman squads on this point. The "rats", not seasoned with experience and knowledge of the proper way to play and the best methods of caring for their physiques, have experienced a long string a casualties which are keeping many stars on the sidelines.

On the other hand the varsity squad, knowing what to do and how to do it, is practically free from trouble on this score. Remembering the string of accidents which handicapped some recent Clemson teams, the Tiger supporters are hoping fervently that the present freedom from injury will remain with the squad all season.

Work for Elon

Elon College, first opponent of the Tiger, small and comparatively unknown institution though it is, not being considered a joke or simply a practice game by the Clemson team. Realizing that the little college will have a fast team, seasoned by a game with Davidson, and primed for Clemson, the coaches and players are preparing for a real contest Saturday, and will not be caught napping or over-confident.

Hard work will be the order throughout this week, with several scrimmages likely to appear on the program, and it will be a well-prepared Tiger eleven which will trot down the north steps of Riggs Field and onto the grid-iron Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock amid the lust roaring of the Tiger student body, turned out for the first taste of the autumn pastime.

Officials Selected

Officials for the Clemson-Elon tootball game which will open the 1924 grid season here well be as follows: Lindsey Moore, of Washington and Lee, referee; W. Dickson Foster, of Hampden-Sidney, former University of South Carolina coach, umpire, and Eichelberger, former P. C. star, lineman.

The contest, giving Clemson fans their first taste of the autumn pastime, will begin at 3 P. M. next Saturday afternoon. Admission will be $1.50 to any seat in the grandstand. No seats will be reserved, but with the Riggs Field capacity increased to about 11,000, there will be choice seats for everyone at the opening game.

Elon has been very much of an unknown quantity around this section, and a great deal of interest is rife in the question of whether they will give the Tigers a good battle or not.

Accoring to information just received from the Elon coach by A. H. Sloan, of Sloan brothers, for use of their athletic bulletin board, the Elon team will average about 155 pounds in weight, the team being light but rather fast. The line will average about 160 and the backfield about 140.

Captain J. C. Whitesell, weight 175, will probably play tackle. Braxton, the center, is said to be an unusually good man, and Harrell, halfback, a good punter will match his kicking ability against the famed toe-work of Captain Charlie Robinson of the Clemson team.

A squad of 22 Elon men will make the trip to Clemson. This squad will likely include. Browne, R. Browne, Deans, Beougher, and Alexander, Ends; Whitesell, Cardwell, and Farmer, tackles; McCauley Donald, Williams, and Jones, centers; Kirkland, Harrell, Swanson, guards; Braxton and Elder, Alexander, Richardson, Byrd, Hainer, and Parkerson, backs. This squad is not a final selection, and may be changed after Elon plays Davidson Saturday.

A successful season was enjoyed by Elon last year. They held Wake Forest to a 9 to 6 score, the week before Wake Forest beat N. C. State. Victories were scored over Hampden-Sidney, Emory and Henry, Lynchburg, and Gilford.

The Elon record last year was:

Elon	0	Davidson	19
Elon	6	King	55
Elon	3	Lynchburg	0
Elon	12	Hampden-Sidney	7
Elon	6	Emory&Henry	0
Elon	0	Trinity	39
Elon	6	Gilford	0
Elon	5	Wake Forest	9

Coach F. B. Corboy, of the Elon team, has been in charge of Elon for four years. He was a back-field man in his college days at the University of Pittsburg and Muhlenburg College.

CALHOUN SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers Elected For Coming Session—Batson Roche, And Bagwell are Made Presidents of The Last Three Terms.

The Calhoun Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting last Friday night in the society hall on the third floor of the main building. J. P. Batson, vice-president for the first quarter, presided at the meeting.

Although a regular program was planned for the occasion, it was voted to lay aside this order and take up the election of officers. The president for the second, third, and fourth quarters respectively are: T. G. Roche. J. P. Batson, and J. C. Bagwell. S. F. Wells was elected secretary of the society and J. P. Howle was honored by his fellow members by being elected corresponding secretary.

The Calhoun Society has indeed shown excellent judgement in the election of their officers, and with such capable leaders as those mentioned above we expect an excellent record for the ensuing year.

CLEMSON ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
FOR A GREATER CLEMSON

EDITORIALS

TALK CLEMSON One of the most important services which an alumnus may render to his college is to advertise it. Talk Clemson every opportunity you have. You don't have to boast or brag. Clemson College can stand upon the record of her past achievements. The service which she has rendered to the state of South Carolina is an everlasting monument to her greatness. Make it your objective to acquaint more people with the importance of Clemson as a state institution. It is this type of sentiment, which comes about through a gradual education of all the people that creates the respect and admiration which a college like Clemson deserves.

It is a lamentable fact that Clemson and her work are not appreciated as they should be in South Carolina. At least this appears on the surface to be true. If a band of revolutionists should march upon Clemson and destroy the institution with dynamite and fire, there would be set up a hue and cry the like of which South Carolina never heard before. And yet, the people of this state, sound-minded, loyal, patriotic citizens, will sit idly by while Clemson College suffers for lack of support and not one of them raises a hand in her behalf.

On November 3rd at the general election, there will be placed before the voters of this state a constitutional amendment authorizing a ten-million dollar bond issue for permanent improvements at charitable, educational, and penal institutions. Whatever may be the conditions at the other state institutions, Clemson needs her share of that bond issue. Barracks and classrooms are crowded to the absolute limit. We need many new buildings. The bond issue seems to be the only hope for Clemson to attain, or rather to provide for that growth and expansion which she rightfully deserves.

You can help by using your influence as a citizen in a quiet and unobtrusive manner to convince the voters that the state institutions must have this support at their hands.

FAIR WEEK—Mention of the South Carolina State Fair instantly brings to mind the Clemson-Carolina football game. This classic contest has come to be the greatest football game of the season in South Carolina. Clemson men from everywhere pour into Columbia during Fair Week the foremost thought in their minds being the football game. Heretofore the night before the game has been an occasion when Clemson and Carolina men gathered in the hotel lobbies, on the street corners, and everywhere, with the outcome of the big game as the sole topic of conversation.

This year we hope to revise this situation. The Columbia alumni chapter has appointed a committee who have completed arrangements for a banquet de luxe at the Jefferson Hotel on Wednesday night, October 22nd. The alumni association is cooperating with them in their efforts because we believe this banquet should be the largest gathering of alumni during the whole year. At the banquet as would be the case if there were no exercises, the one topic for discussion will be the Clemson-Carolina game. No other subject will be permitted for discussion. The coaches will be there, and a number of the students body will be there. It will be an ideal arrangement for a revival meeting where the famous Clemson Spirit may be renewed, diffused, and assimilated.

Detailed announcements of the plans are contained elsewhere in this issue of The Tiger. You should be there if you are in Columbia. And you should make a special effort to be in Columbia. It is necessary to conduct the ticket sale before Fair Week so that the committee may know how large a crowd to provide for.

Make your plans to be at the Jefferson Wednesday night. Mingle with other Clemson men. Shake hands with your classmates, Coach Saunders, and the cadets from Clemson. Renew the friendships that you treasure with the memories of your college days. This committee in Columbia has arranged an elaborate program which will furnish plenty of entertainment without occupying too much time. Long-winded speeches will be barred.

Order your ticket now.

BANQUET IN COLUMBIA TO BE GALA AFFAIR

Committee Of Columbia Chapter Has Arranged For Important Occasion On Night Before

The alumni office has just received from the Columbia committee, a tentative outline of the plans for the alumni banquet to be held at the Jefferson Hotel in Columbia on Wednesday night, October 22nd, which is the night before the annual state fair Classic Clemson-Carolina football game. Bill Perry, '14, is Chairman of the committee, and this committee is not one of the kind that goes to sleep immediately after its appointment.

The banquet is to be held in the ball room of the Jefferson and the menu is as follows:

Oyster Cocktail, Celery Hearts, Green Olives, Salted Nuts; Filet of Sole, Tartar Sauce; Roast Long Island Duckling, Apple Sauce; French Peas, Creamed Cubed Potatoes; Fruit Salad Jefferson, Cherry Nut Ice Cream, Assorted Cakes; American Cheese Crackers; Demi-tasse.

One glance at that assortment is sufficient to convince anyone that the Columbia committee is composed of men who can appreciate a Tiger appetite.

Tickets are already on sale for this occasion and admission will be by ticket only. Tickets will sell at $1.75 a plate. All Clemson men, alumni, ex-students, and friends of the institution are invited and urged to attend the banquet. The committee suggests that it might be wise to mention that this is to be stag party. While the presence of ladies would undoubtedly add much to the pleasure and enjoyment of those present, it has been decided that in view of the fact that most of the Clemson men will be unaccompanied in Columbia, in order to prevent any division of the crowd, to confine the invitations to Clemson men.

Tickets may be procured from any member of the committee or from the alumni secretary at Clemson. You are urged to make every effort to be present and to order your ticket as soon as possible. We expect to make this banquet an annual occasion, and we hope that it will come to be the largest and most important alumni gathering of the year.

The committee in charge of arrangements is J. E. Auld, 1633 Gervais St., J. W. Barnwell, State Highway Comm., and W. L. Perry, 1609 Main St., all of Columbia.

They have each been president of the Southern Society and of the South Carolina Society. In fact, so many honors have been bestowed upon them that they have become "office dodgers."

"Josh Ward '15, who moved from Washington to New York last year, makes a surprisingly large number of visits to Washington. Nothing official to report as yet—give him a little more time.

"Bill Perry '14, passed through town the other day en route to

New York—I think he was figuring on buying the G. E.

"Joe Smith ex '24, toots a wicked saxophone in Meyer Davis first Le Paradis Orchestra.

"Tom Jervey '17, is a Captain in the Ordnance Department in charge of the Aircraft Armament Section.

"Jack (Red) Williams, plunging fullback of the class of 1922 after taking on a blushing bride decided to go to work. He builds houses on 'dollar-down-dollar-when-you-get-it' plan.

"Haskell (Hack) Allison '17, is a Captain in the U. S. Signal Corps. Hack is the father of Clemson's 1942 quarterback.

"Bob Finley '18, is getting to be a golfer of no mean repute. He has been eliminated in the qualifying round of all of the municipal tournaments."

RIGGS FIELD IS NOW HUGE STADIUM

New Seating Accomodations For Ten Thousand Spectators Make Regular Stadium of Clemson Field.

The alumni who return to Clemson during this year's football season will hardly recognize Riggs field. From an ordinary athletic field surrounded by three banks, the place has been transformed into a genuine stadium. The banks on three sides of the gridiron have been completely covered with combination concrete and wooden stands. The runners for the seats are of concrete with wooden seats across them. In this way accommodations have been provided for ten thousand spectators. In addition to these seats, the temporary bleachers on the field will seat an additional three thousand at one end and on one bank of the field.

The seats are especially designed providing plenty of space and with offset foot rests. Seven sets of steps will provide easy access to any portion of the field. A marker gateway has been built at the northeast entrance to the field and this will be the main entrance. The class of 1925 is building this gate. When it has been completed, an iron arch will be placed over it and will bear the words "RIGGS FIELD."

The gridiron proper will run east and west instead of north and south as formerly. In this way more room is provided for the end zones, and it is possible to put in many more seats.

The track will be changed as soon as the stadium is completed. The civil engineers have already laid out a quarter-mile track with circular ends and a 220 yard straightaway. This change will be of great benefit to the Clemson track teams which have always been at a disadvantage when away from home on a quarter-mile track.

The whole length of the wire fence which was erected last year has been planted with ivy which will soon cover the wire and furnish an effective blind fence. For this year the fence will be covered with canvas during the games.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION GAINS NEW MEMBERS

Fifteen Alumni Respond To Appeal
In Tiger—More Expected To Come In.

Fifteen Clemson alumni responded to the appeal for new members which was contained in the first issue of The Tiger. While it is very gratifying to recruit this many new members, the number is far short of what it should be. Those who have joined the alumni association since The Tiger of Sept. 10th are:

- H. B. Jennings '02, Union.
- A. E. Rush, '20, Box 411, Nashville Tenn.
- S. C. Rice '23, 12 Park St., Lynn, Mass.

CLEMSON WILL HAVE OLD-TIME TIGER TEAM

Coach Saunders Has Likely Looking Aggregation For 1924 Team

Elsewhere in The Tiger will be found an account of the progress of the varsity football team from the student's angle. What will probably be of more interest to the alumni is the fact that Bud Saunders seems to have an old-time Tiger team in the making out there.

At this time only a few remain before the opening game with Elon College. This will be the first test of the Tigers' mettle. Elon is not the prep school that some people imagine. They always produce a scrappy little football team that calls for its opponents to give their best to win.

Following the Elon game, the Clemson eleven goes to Auburn to battle the Tiger of the Plains. Both teams have a grievance in this scrap. Auburn realizes that Clemson had decided edge over them last season and would have won but for the breaks of the game. This year they hope to prove their superiority decisively. The Clemson eleven feel and know that they should have won last season, and they are going to Alabama with the avowed intention of showing Auburn a few things.

The practices are running off smoothly in the afternoon. Saunders and May have the "crapshooter's shift" working as smoothly as a well-oiled machine. Many spectators at the practices have volunteered the opinion that the team is running more smoothly now than at midseason last year.

Coach Bud, of course, is inclined to be pessimistic. He has worries of his own. The making of a quarterback, a center, an end and a tackle is a task calculated to cause any coach to lose sleep. The quarterback job is very much in doubt. Kirkland and Bradley seem to be the outstanding contenders. At center, Frog Palmer has been working regularly for the last few days with Bowles alternating with him. Roy is working at end most of the time. Hayne seems to be the choice for the vacancy in the line. Doc Melton is showing lots of stuff at halfback in the afternoon workouts. He is going to be a hard man to keep on the bench.

Cul Richards, the new freshman coach has a big job with the rats. There were a hundred and fifty of the new boys out at practice when school opened. This number has been cut down considerably now. Richards is being assisted by Bob Griffin '24; Bill Moore '20; and Aleck Lewis '14.

The varsity hops off Saturday, and after that game is safely tucked away, the alumni and interested public will be able to get a much better line on the caliber of the team.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO HAVE BOOTH AT S. C. STATE FAIR

Governing Board Authorizes Preparation Of Booth For Association
To Contain Interesting Features

The Governing Board of the Alumni Association has authorized and directed the secretary to proceed with plans for a booth at the South Carolina State Fair this fall. Last year the alumni exhibit occupied a small part of the college booth, and while it attracted a number of the old 'men, it is hoped that the booth this year will be arranged more attractively.

One of the items which we hope to have in the alumni exhibit is a list of all the paid-up members of the alumni association, a sort of Honor Roll or "Is your name written there?" proposition. Facilities will be provided for the leaving and delivering of messages from Clemson men to other Clemson men. We hope to have a regular miniature post office for this purpose. Pictures of Clemson football teams of the past will occupy a prominent place in the exhibit.

Plans for this project are far from complete, and fuller announcements will be made in the Tiger at a later date.

ALUMNI RESPOND TO APPEAL IN TIGER

Letters Received From Many Alumni Following Mailing Of First Issue Of The Tiger.

A large number of alumni have responded to the appeal for new members contained in the first issue of the Tiger. Numbers of others, already members have expressed themselves as favorably impressed with the idea of connecting the alumni with the student body and of keeping the old men in touch with the college. Extracts from some of these letters follow:

"A copy of a Tiger just received has revived old memories and calls me to my duty to the alumni association. My check for five dollars is enclosed."

"In answer to your personal letter in the Tiger of Sept. 10th I am enclosing you a check for five dollars which leaves me a balance of $2.50 in the bank; so please see that I get full credit for same, and that it does its part."

"Congratulations on your alumni department of the Tiger. This alone should be the means of reuniting many of the fellows who have lost touch in the years past. You have my best wishes in your able efforts to build anew and keep alive that great spirit for which Clemson has been noted among its alumni as well as its student body. Enclosed find my dues for the year 1924-25."

"Today I received my Tiger—and you may be sure the information and news regarding Clemson was very interesting to me. I want to wish you much success as secretary of the association."

"I am receipt of the September 10th issue of The Tiger, and I have read with interest your letter to the Clemson Alumni.—I am enclosing you my check for $5.00 covering my dues to the association for the coming year. I am glad to note your interest in the new lease on life that the alumni association is now taking, and I assure you that the Charleston Chapter is willing to help and co-operate with you in anything we can do. I was certainly pleased with the first issue of the Tiger, and the boys are to be congratulated on putting out such a wonderful paper."

"I am enclosing check for $5.00 in payment of membership dues to the alumni association. May I never be among the missing again! —Yours for a successful year, not only on the gridiron but in all that the college undertakes."

"In response to your well-rounded and worthy appeal in the last issue of The Tiger. I am enclosing check for $5.00 annual dues and subscription."

"After reading my copy of The Tiger which you sent me I remembered that I had not renewed my membership to the alumni association. Accordingly, I am enclosing my check for $5.00 for another year's membership."

"You will find enclosed check for $5.00 covering my dues for 1924. This should have been attended to months ago, but I kept putting it off until The Tiger came in today and spurred me up."

B. H. RAWL DIES

Just as The Tiger went to press today, news was received of the death of B. H. Rawl, of the class of 1900, at Berkley, California. Mr. Rawl was one of the most prominent of Clemson alumni. No details were contained in the notification received here.

COMMUNITY DANCING CLUB GIVES DANCE

Friday evening, the old gym was the scene of the first dance of the fall. The Community Dancing Club of which W. D. Moore is President, and J. L. Merritt Sec. and Treas. being host to many girl visitors and campus folk. About half a hundred, including a few lucky members of the Senior Class, "tripped the light fantastic" till the wee small hours of the morning.

The music for this, the first dance of the season was furnished by "The Jangleers", Clemson's own orchestra. Needless to say the music was all that could be desired in pure unadulterated jazz

It is the intention of this club, which has its memberships among the faculty and other residents of the campus and vicinity, to put on more dances this year than has been done heretofore. This first dance was one of the best opening hops ever given and the many good one to follow during the coming school year will doubtless add much to the social pleasures of the members and guests of this club.

Reverend Gibson has gained quite a few friends during his stay here. Everybody that knows him speaks very highly of him. His friends will miss him daily.

Besides being a good pastor and friend Reverend Gibson is a lover of all sports. He is a baseball player himself. Last spring he umpired several of the Freshman baseball games.

The corps of cadets sincerely hopes that you will be pleased with your new pastoral position. In the days to come, may happiness, success, cheerfulness, and the love of your new people be yours.

As Clemson is a military college, all the Freshman should know how to act. When you walk into the Commandants office, don't be dazzled by the display of shining leather and brass buttons. Just walk right in and if there is a vacant chair, pull it up to the member of the "Patriotic Sons of Rest" you wish to speak to. If all the chairs have been taken, then push the "Police Gazette" and other religious publications aside and sit on the desk. If you are a slave to the Goddess Nicotine, fill your favorite pipe and ask the officer you are talking to for a match. Show at all times that you are at ease, and that you are in a hurry so that he will put down what he is doing and give you his undivided attention. When you are ready to leave invite him to come around to your room and play Bridge some night during study hour.

Every cadet is supposed to read the "Rules and Regulations" so that if there is anything that he does not like he can go to the office of His Majesty and tell him that he does not approve of it, and he will make a note of it, and—probably the cadet will have the pleasure of hearing his name read out during that hour that we go to the mess hall to say the blessing over what we don't get.

Demand your rights. This is a democratic school, and you should do as you please and get what you want. Follow these rules and you will be guaranteed a place on the Square every Saturday which rolls around.

Father:—Didn't I see you sitting on that young man's lap last night.

Daughter:—Well, Father, you told me that if he tried to get sentimental, that I must sit on him.

Sec.

My Dearest "Tootsie Wootsie",

I received your last letter with all the romantic inspiration possible. Indeed my heart bubbled over with enthusiasm when I read your letter. It was as liniment to my thumping bumping brain. I have been tossed about upon the sea of trouble and your letter came to me as a rescuing ship. Oh! it was you dear one that saved my withered soul from going up the creek without a paddle. Oh! "snooky ookums" I love you with the same affection that a sardine has for its mate.

Fair one, Although you are the Queen of the universe, you have caused me to spend many sleepless nights. I lay awake and think of you and my heart beats with the same rapidity as my Ingersoll.

All the boys ask me what bright thing I have in my room and I tell them it is the picture of the prettiest, darlingest, most beautiful sweetest, most adorable, smartest, loveable, heart stealingest sweet mama that ever breathed a breath.

Oh! yes sweet mama being I can't be with you tonight I am going to send you a check provided you don't let any of the other boys cash it.

Pay to the order of my sweetums 511000000 kisses. Now won't you be satisfied with that for a while.

I knew you would, You old sweet honey bunch.

I can not write you any more for thinking of you. My hands have ceased to work and cork leg and glass eye have refused to function Sending You my love on the next freight train, I am,

Yours For Never,

NEW SONGS

Up until the present time all the cheering and singing at our games had been good but our yells and songs are growing rather old. It is the object of the cheer leader and the Band to obtain a new song to take the place of "When the Sons of Clemson Fall In Line..". This song, while it is a good one, is being used by numerous other schools and colleges for the same purpose as we use it at Clemson. To be different and to inject more pep into the cheering we are endeavoring to secure a set of words to fit the March written by Sousa entitled "The United Field Artillery." So far only two sets of words have been turned in. They are as follow:

Up the field, down the field,
We're filled with pep and zeal,
As the Tigers go roaring along.

With a bound, cut 'em down,
For we are sure to gain some ground
As the Tigers go roaring along.

So it's Hi! Hi! Hee! for dear old C. A. C.

Give them three cheers loud and strong.

So fight, you Tigers bold
For the purple and the gold,
As the Tigers go roaring along.
Buck Brown '27

FIGHT 'EM TEAM.

Fight 'em team, fight 'em team
Fight 'em hard from goal to goal,
For old Clemson is going to win.

Fight 'em hard, Tiger team,
Smash their line from end to end
And old Clemson is certain to win.

Whistle-boom-rah, the Tiger gang is here

Out for another vic-to-ry
Cheer, gang, cheer—for we are going to win,

And oh my! how happy we'll be.
(Second chorus)

Fight, team, fight for we're behind you strong,

Fight for the purple and the gold,
Whistle-boom-rah, we'll back you to the last

And old Clemson is going to win.
R. H. Smith '25

Anyone who would care to contribute a set of words to fit this tune may turn them in to Prof. E. J. Freeman, director of the band; E. L. Smith, editor of The Tiger; or J. R. Heller, captain of the band. Any set of verses will certainly be appreciated and you are urged to make an attempt at this to help out the cheering. Be sure to save these words that are given in this article as we may use them in the next pep meeting.

—G. W. G.

Another Song Contributed

Since the above article was written the following set of words have been bought to the attention of the Tiger. The words are a revised form of the song used by N. C. State.

Play the game, fight like men,
We're behind you, lose or win.
And The Tigers keep fighting along.

Scrap em men; hold'em fast;
You'll snatch victory at last.
And The Tigers keep fighting along.

Rise, men to the fray and let your banners wave,
Shout out our chorus loud and strong;

And where'er we go we'll let the wide world know

That the Tigers keep fighting along!

J. J. SMYLY, FORMER CLEMSON STUDENT, PASSES AT HOME

News Received Of His Death Is Great Surprise—Well-liked And Respected By All Of His Class-mates.

It is with the deepest regret that we announce the death of our friend and fellow student M. M. Smyly. His death came as a surprise to all the students here at Clemson. We who knew him were greatly surprised when the sad news reached us. Though he was not very strong or robust, he was always very cheerful in all his work and among his friends.

Smyly was a true friend, a good sport and a loyal Tiger. No greater praise would be given any man than to say that he exemplified all the things that he and his associates held dear and such was Smyly.

The present Junior Class feels more deeply than the other members of the corps the sorrow caused by his death. We attended classes with him and knew him in all the various phases of college activities.

The following is an extract from his father written to Mr. Littlejohn shortly after Smyly's death: "Ex-cadet Mangin M. Smyly '26 died on July the 20th. While his death was a hard blow to us it was not unexpected: knowing his condition I did my best to persuade him not to return to Clemson last September. I saw at once that he would not remain at home satisfied so I would not force him to leave college. I feel save that he had some friends in the corps who will regret to hear of his untimely end."

A field is spread, on which a newer band

Have pitched in Heaven's smile their camp of death

Welcoming him we love with scarce extinguished breath.

CLEMSON RADIO TO BROADCAST GAMES

Station WSAC Will Broadcast Play-by-Play Detail and Follow With Summary at Night For Special Benefit of Alumni

Prof. S. R. Rhodes, '07, who has charge of the Clemson radio station, announces that WSAC will broadcast all of the home football games this year. The station will give its customary play-by-play detail during the actual playing of the game, and in addition will inaugurate a new feature especially for Clemson alumni in distant cities. At eight o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, on the night following each home game, WSAC will broadcast a report and summary of the game played during the afternoon. Many alumni live at distant points where they would not be able to pick up the daylight broadcast. The evening feature should make it possible for hundreds of Clemson men to pick up the Clemson scores and reports before the papers carry them.

WSAC is a 500 watt station, operating on a wave length of 360 metres. The station is on the air every Wednesday night from 8 to 9, EST, giving farm help us and other numbers from the college.

STEPHEN LEACOCK HOLDS AUDIENCE

Noted Lecturer Holds Attention Of Large Audience With Splendid Speech—Recites Many Incidents Of His Travels Over The World.

Stephen Leacock, famous humorist, writer, and lecturer, appeared in the College Chapel Saturday night as the opening Lyceum number of the year.

Mr. Leacock known as the "Canadian Mark Twain," is a native of England, but left that country and came to Canada many years ago. He was educated at the University of Chicago, and later was President of McGill University for twenty four years. For the past ten years he has delighted British audiences with his extremely entertaining lectures on America, and in turn has come back to this County giving the people humorous reviews of their British Cousins.

Speaking to a large and appreciative audience of Cadets and Hill Folk. Mr. Leacock gave a most humorous talk, his subject being, "Frenzied Fiction." Tracing fiction from its earliest ages, he gave his audience a description of each type, from the novel of that time to the present day novel, all the while keeping them in continuous laughter by his humorous remarks and pointed witicisms of the types of fiction.

Clemson was indeed fortunate in having so gifted a man to listen to. It is seldom that a lecturer can hold the attention of an audience composed largely of cadets, but Mr. Leacock did this, and could have held it for hours longer. He is truly "The Canadian Mark Twain."

BIBLE CLASS WORK GETS UNDER WAY

Seven Hundred Men Enlist For Training—Capable Leaders Selected—Work Started Last Sunday Night

There are only a few ways in which we might get training in the Bible here at Clemson. One of these ways is at Bible Classes. Every student at Clemson has a chance to join a Bible Class. As a result of the canvass for Bible Class members last Sunday night about seven hundred have joined. This is a very large number, but enough out of about eleven hundred men. There will be thirty-two freshman and twenty sophomore classes in barracks this year. It is not exactly known just how many junior classes there will be but very probably there will be one on each hall. The seniors will probably meet in one class, and, it is hoped, to have Mr. McSween for a leader.

If you have not joined a class find out where the class is meeting on your hall and join next Sunday night. Probably some of the classes will not like their leaders, but don't let that keep you away. These men who have consented to teach these classes are doing it for your good, and not for any good that they get out of it. They are willing to come out and do their best. They could probably get more good out of attending some other class, but they are willing to give up that pleasure for your good. Study these lessons, something a great many do not do, and put something into them and you will very probably get something out of them. The books to be studied are the best that could be obtained.

PRESBYTERIAN BOYS ATTEND SOCIAL AT REV. MR. M'SWEEEN'S

RECEPTION FOR PRESBYTERIAN CADETS

One of the most enjoyable social occasions of the season was the reception given last Friday Evening by Rev. and Mrs. John McSween in honor of the cadets who attend the Presbyterian church.

Rev. and Mrs. McSween have been noted ever since they have been at Clemson for their kindness and hospitality and it seems that then efforts last Friday evening eclipsed all former trials to give the cadets a good time.

A number of girls from Anderson, Pendleton and Seneca besides those of the campus, added greatly to the occasion. The presence of these young ladies was indeed an inspiration to all who attended, as it is not often that we get a chance to attend a gathering where there are so many girls.

Music by the "Jungleers" during the reception, added a great deal to the occasion. This music and the Japanese lanterns strung over the lawn gave an air of joyous festivity to the occasion.

All during the reception punch was served by Mrs. McSween assisted by some of the ladies of the Presbyterian church. At the close of the reception refreshments, which consisted of delicious ice cream and cake, were served.

On behalf of all the cadets who were present on the enjoyable occasion, we wish to take this opportunity to thank Mr. and Mrs. McSween for the pleasure they gave us and to express one appreciation for an they have done to make our life here at Clemson more enjoyable and pleasant.

VESPER SERVICE ATTRACTS MANY

Rev. Darby Fulton Gives Vivid Description Of Japanese Earthquake—"Y" Auditorium Filled To Capacity.

It certainly is a pleasure to see the large number of men who continue to attend Vesper Services. The house was so full Sunday night that some of the men went in the gallery. "Rat" Carter, accompanied by Mrs. Dargan, rendered a very good violin solo. Carter is a very good young violinist, and it is hoped that we will have the pleasure of having him to play for a great many more times.

We were very fortunate in having Rev. C. Darby Fulton, a missionary just back from Japan, to speak to us. Mr. Fulton has spent quite a few years in Japan, a part of that time being during the earthquake.

Mr. Fulton's home was just about eighty miles northwest of Tokyo. The afternoon of September 1, 1923 he was sitting in his home trying to decide how he might spend his vacation, for he had just completed some important task and wanted a rest. He decided to run over to his father's house about one half mile away to look over a time table. While he was there the earthquake started. He and the others rushed out of the house and stood up and saw it all shaken up. It was difficult to keep footing; so they held to trees that were swaying back and forth. While they were standing there they could see the wave about two or three feet high sweep over the lawn. The noise sounded like boulders rolling down a mountain. Some of the people seemed to think Christ's second coming was at hand. Men who had never darkened a church door were on their knees to God. When the earth had calmed itself for a while, Mr. Fulton decided to hurry home to see if his wife and little child were alive. Upon his arrival home he found his child playing in a neighbors yard and his wife walking around in his yard. She greeted him with these words, "A pretty good shake, wasn't it?" There were no casualties to the foreigners to Japan in that town. Some one on a very high mountain near by could see the flames of burning Tokyo eighty miles away and thought that it was a new volcano that had come into play.

The rescue missions to Tokyo from some parts of the country were stopped by a fallen trestle. Trains coming out of Tokyo were packed from the tender to the top of the cars.

Mr. Fulton and one of his friends Mr. Gillette who lived in Tokyo got on a motorcycle and started to Tokyo. As they neared the city they could see crowds just thronging out of the burning city picturing the disaster left behind. People were eating and sleeping in the middle of the burning streets. One could stand and look seven miles in one direction and four in another and see nothing but devastated area. For two weeks one could smell the odor of burning human flesh. 32,800 dead bodies lay in 15 acres of ground.

On the eighth day of September Mr. Fulton and two of his friends joined a relief force and worked as jitney drivers hauling people and supplies around.

When the Japanese saw the American relief ships coming they thought that we had tried to take advantage of them and wage war on them at that time. One can imagine how differently they felt when they found the true mission of these ships. The Japanese agreed with the American Ambassador that if he would take care of the foreigners in that country that they would take care of the homefolk. Imagine the Japanese and a great many of these other countries looking to America for help. The Japanese feel that they owe America a great deal. There were men over there who had lost everything they had and yet were putting God first. It is believed that now there will be more Christians in Japan. They have been worshipers of materialism. They had built this beautiful city of Tokyo and almost worshiped it. The earthquake has destroyed all of this now and a great many of the Japanese have lost faith in their religions, and are now ready to try some other.

These are only a few of the interesting things about which Mr. Fulton told. Every one appreciated very much Mr. Fulton's talk.

JUST AROUND the corner is the curtain-raising game of the 1924 football season. On Saturday afternoon Riggs Field will once more see the glorious game in full sway. Elon College will send its eleven to Clemson to play the Tigers, and the inhabitants of Tigertown will eagerly flock to the field to see the Jungaleers in action.

NO PROBABLE LINE-UP can be announced for the coaches say that they will not know who will start the game until the hour of battle arrives. Until that time the contest among the various candidates for a place among the lucky eleven will continue until the time of the game.

AFTER ELON comes Auburn, and as stated before in this column, nothing less than victory will appease the appetite of the hungry Tiger.

THE EXCITEMENT continues rampant about the possible playing of the Clemson-Davidson game on the Winthrop campus. One of the chief topics of conversation on the Clemson campus is, "Do you think we'll play at Winthrop?" According to reports Winthrop is equally thrilled. The Johnsonian, Winthrop student paper, last week carried reprints of the newspaper stories announcing that the game might be played in Rock Hill.

PAPERS all over the state have commented on the matter. Carl Weimer, sport editor of the Charleston News & Courier, says in his column:

RATHER EXCITED

"Up in Clemson the boys are all 'het up' over the idea of playing football on the Winthrop College campus before an audience of more than 1,000 of South Carolina's fair daughters, not to mention the hundreds of other folks who expect to be there and watch the performance. It's this way. Clemson and Davidson are scheduled to play in Davidson. Rock Hill wants the game and as an added inducement offers the Winthrop College campus. Over at Clemson the boys are wondering if there's a football uniform laundry at Rock Hill and if the Winthrop girls will 'please pardon' their hair being crumpled."

NO DEFINITE news has come from Davidson yet as to whether or not the Wildcats will consent to the change of scene of the battle, but the following appeared in the Spartanburg Herald Monday:

Insert to come

ELON COLLEGE, whose team will oppose the Tigers Saturday in the opening game of the Clemson season, stole a march on us by getting the advantage of a real game in which to get experience. They opened their season against Davidson Saturday, losing to the Wildcats by the score of 14 to 0. The first touchdown came in the first eight minutes of play, but after that the contest tightened and the other touchdown was made on a seventy-yard run by Claude Sapperfield, Davidson half-back. Neither point after touchdown was made, the other two points being made on a safety.

DAME RUMOR spread word over the Clemson campus Saturday night that Elon had won from Davidson by a 7 to 0 score, and folks began to look for a real battle with Elon on the opening day. The arrival of newspapers the next morning, however, disproved the rumor that Elon was the victor.

TO ED CURDTS we are deeply indebted for the "new head" which appears over this column for the first time in this issue. The versatile Greenville lad, who is both an artist and a musician of talent, was kind enough to draw a design, which will keep us striving hard to have the reading matter of THE BALDHEAD ROW worthy of the head.

THE NEW TRACK, a quarter of a mile in length, which will encircle the gridiron in the new Riggs Field stadium, will be constructed probably in the near future, in order that it settle and be in good condition for the track season next spring. It is hoped that the Tiger track men will have a track worthy of their best efforts. The possession of a quarter-mile track, similar to the ones on which they run most of their meets, will enable them to be much better prepared for the big races. Heretofore the track men have had difficulty in setting their pace to a quarter-mile track after practicing on a half-mile loop.

THE CROSS COUNTRY team has been working out daily under the direction of Coach Reed and Captain Sease. The long distance men will have a meet with Georgia, and will possibly enter other meets. There is a bare possibility of their going to the Birmingham Athletic Club's Invitation Road Race and the Southeastern A. A. U. meet in Atlanta. Jimmy Driver, athletic director at Carolina is also trying to arrange a state meet.

JACK CHANDLER, Clemson's star sprinter, is in his home town, Sumter, undergoing an operation for appendicitis. All Clemson hopes that the operation will be successful and that Jack will soon be back at his accustomed place Tigertown.

Champion 100-yard runner of the South in 1923, Jack was unable to run last spring on account of his health. He hopes that the operation will clear up his troubles and that he will be in shape to carry the Purple and Gold to new heights of cinder path glory next spring.

A CUP to be held each year by the college winning the South Carolina state football championship has been donated by the Focus Club, of Columbia. The cup is to become the permanent possession of the institution which first wins it for three successive years. In the event of doubt as to the winner of the championship, the possession of the cup is to be decided by a committee of three, drawn from alumni of colleges outside of this state.

THE FOCUS CLUB entertained all the college football coaches of the state at a banquet last Thursday night and the donation of the cup was announced at that time. Coach "Bud" Saunders attended the festive gathering, and reports a pleasant time. All the coaches spoke, and the college songs of each institution were sung.

JACK REAMES, ball player extraordinary who was captain of the 1923 state championship Tiger nine, faced another kind of pitcher in June when he stepped up before the parson, and took unto himself a wife. The bride was Miss Lydia Owens, and the ceremony was performed in Abbeville, home town of both the bride and the groom.

One of the heaviest hitting and surest fielding outfielders who has ever played on a Clemson team. Jack was the terror of opposing hurlers. He has also been a star in the Carolina league and played a short while in the Sally.

Although not quite so bright a star on the gridiron, Jack was an end of no mean ability, and threatened at times to make the varsity team.

In this adventure into another realm of sport, if such you would call it, we congratulate Jack and his bride and wish them the greatest of happiness.

JACK is now physical director at the Parker High School, Greenville. He had a splendid baseball team there last spring, and has now started football practice with bright prospects for a successful season. If he is as good a coach as he was player, Jack's teams should make a great record on both gridiron and diamond.

BASKETBALL sifted into the sport news columns recently for the first time this season, with the announcement of the Georgia Tech schedule for this winter. The Yellowjacket program includes two games with Clemson, one in Atlanta on January 9, and one here on February 14.

"BULL" LIGHTSEY, great all-southern lineman of recent Clemson teams, is now at Bailey Military Institute where he is an instructor in English and assistant to Coach W. D. Haynes. One of the greatest guards and tackles that ever played for Clemson, "Bull" had the reputation of opening more holes in a line than any other forward in the South. He visited Clemson recently and viewed the varsity practice.

MORE DOPE ON FLINT RHEM

Sporting News Gives Clemson Star Big Write-Up

The following story from The Sporting News is of interest here, where Flint Rhem began his sensational pitching record.

"St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25.—Branch Rickey, manager emeritus of the St. Louis Cardinals, is back after browsing around for a month on a private scout-sortie during which he 'saw with his eyes.' The trip took him to several cities in the Texas League, to most of the California points of baseball interest in the Pacific Coast League, and to Fort Smith in the Western Association. Fort Smith is a St. Louis farm and Rickey inherently exercises a fatherly interest in the ugly ducklings. It was there that he got his biggest eyeful.

"Now, one might imagine that a man was been called upon to answer for the Cardinals over a period of years, would be more or less immune to shocks—hardened as it were. But such is not the case, and Branch Rickey will tell the world.

"The shock producer in this case was Flint Rhem, a big right-handed Southern boy, who has been fooling them all season in the Little Class C Loop. This day, it was August 21, Rhem was performing for the particular edification of his boss-to-be, and the game he pitched will take precedent with the Big Wind and Blake Harper's unsuccessful pursuit of the sheriff's badge.

"Here's what Rhem did right before the eyes of Branch:

"Pitched a no-hit shutout; didn't permit a Hutchinson batter to knock the ball out of the infield, and set up a new league strikeout record by fanning 16 men. The score was 4 to 0.

"The no-hit game brought Rhem's victories for the year up to 23, and the 16 strikeouts boosted his total whiffings to 201, the highest ever established in the history of the league.

"Rhem is but 21 years old and a strapping fellow, with a corking fast ball and good change of pace. He still has much to learn to shape him for a major league career, but has an abundance of natural ability and an aptitude for learning. He stands six feet, two inches tall, and weighs more than 180 pounds. Flint jumped into league ball this spring, coming directly from Clemson College of South Carolina. He will join the Cardinals when the W. A. season closes."

Bill: "Did you ever sit in the dog's seat in the theatre?"

Tom: "I'll bite, what is it?"

Bill: "K-Nine."
